

From Exclusion to Inclusion: 250 Years of Women at Rutgers

March 8, 2016, 1–6 p.m.

Mabel Smith Douglass Room, Mabel Smith Douglass Library

Join us as we delve into the history of women at Rutgers.

1–3 p.m.

Excavating the Archive: Unearthing Diverse Women's Contributions to Rutgers

- Kayo Denda (Margery Foster Somers Center, RUL)
- Kelly Hannavi (History and Women's & Gender Studies)
- Fernanda Perrone (Special Collections and University Archives, RUL)
- Meaghan Moody (Library and Information Sciences)
- Autumn Oberkehr (Journalism and Media Studies)
- Maegan Kae Sunaz (Political Science, Women's & Gender Studies)
- Meryem Uzumcu (Planning & Public Policy, Women's & Gender Studies, Middle-East Studies)

3:15–5 p.m.

Transformative Scholarship: Remaking the Known World

- Susan Carroll (Political Science and Eagleton Institute)
- Nicole Fleetwood (American Studies and Institute for Research on Women)
- Marisa Fuentes (History and Women's & Gender Studies)
- Judith Gerson (Sociology and Women's & Gender Studies)
- Cheryl Wall (Zora Neale Hurston Board of Governors Professor, English)

5–6 p.m.

Reception

The Event is co-sponsored by the Department of Women's and Gender Studies, the Institute for Women's Leadership, the Margery Somers Foster Center, Rutgers University Libraries, the Center for Women in the Arts and Humanities, and the Office of the Vice President for Undergraduate Education.